New architectural landmark in the heart of Innsbruck pde Integrale Planung GmbH, formerly PORR Design & Engineering, was commissioned with the P2's overall design in autumn 2015. This project drew on almost all the competences available at pde. After all, the project included a whole range of highly complex tasks:

- Project management and project leadership
- Architecture – draft, optimisation, replacement planning, execution planning
- Superstructure design – execution statics, form work and reinforcement planning
- Technical building equipment
- Building physics
- Certification in LEED Gold

Almost all performance phases around project P2 were implemented by pde.
